THE SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES SHOULD BE:

- Experts in the subject matter, including AP Economics, business studies, and management.
- Educators who are engaging, dynamic, and creative in their approach to teaching and learning.
- Professionals who bring evidence-based practices to their work with students, colleagues, and families.
- Educators who are committed to teaching young men and women to be independent, creative, and responsible learners.
- Mentors who commit to their time and talents in the classroom, on the sports field, and by helping guide students as advisors and dorm parents.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course provides students with a comprehensive understanding of microeconomic and macroeconomic principles, and business studies, preparing them for success in college-level coursework and beyond. Students engage in critical thinking, problem-solving, and data analysis activities to deepen their understanding of economic concepts and develop the skills necessary to evaluate economic issues and policies.
